This is a reminder that you’re receiving this email because you have expressed an interest in School of Food Science. Don’t forget to add angela.lenssen@wsu.edu to your address book so we’ll be sure to land in your inbox!

You may unsubscribe if you no longer wish to receive our emails.

Dear Angela,

Here are some news briefs to keep you updated on what we have been doing here at the University of Idaho/Washington State University School of Food Science. Let us know what kind of news you like to hear from us.

Students Take Top Spots for DuPont Award

First and second place earned in product development competition

Two student teams representing the Washington State University/University of Idaho School of Food Science earned a first place award for a Greek yogurt cake named "Aphrodite's Treats" and second place for a sweet potato pasta appetizer called "S.P. Stuffed Puffs". See more

Upcoming Seminar by Dr. Takeuchi

Distinguished lecture series featuring food safety

WSU alumna Masami Takeuchi, Food Safety Officer from the Food Safety and Quality Unit (AGND) of the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO) is coming to the School of Food Science. Come to her seminar on Tuesday, September 17 at 3:00 pm (FSHN T101). Her topic is "Taking Food Safety to the Corners of the World: The Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations". See more details about the event here.

FFAers who Know Food Science

Top scorers in the Food Science and Technology CDE

Find out who the top teams and individual scorers were in this year's FFA Food Science and Technology Career Development Events. WSU hosted the state convention and contest in May and UI hosted FFAers in June. See the list of winners here.
Huber Leaving UI SFS Faculty Position
Contributions to SFS will be long lasting
After 15 years of working at the University of Idaho School of Food Science, Dr. Kerry Huber is moving on. Read this article by Chanelle Denman to learn about the valuable contributions that Dr. Huber made in his work as a professor with the School of Food Science.

FDA Discussion Sessions on FSMA
Concerns of NW agriculture shared with federal lawmakers
Food growers, packers and processors met to discuss food safety policy and proposed regulations with the U.S. Food and Drug Administration in Yakima, WA on August 14. Read about the information they covered here.

SFS at IFT Chicago
A great opportunity to catch up with colleagues
Each year at the IFT Annual Meeting, the School of Food Science has two general objectives: connect and reconnect. You can read about this year’s events here.

Hendrix Retires after 38 Years in UI CALS
Research tech worked under 10 university presidents
Read this article by Chanelle Denman that talks about Kathy’s many years of service to the University of Idaho College of Agricultural and Life Sciences. Thank you for your years of service, Kathy!

Summer Graduate Students Pass Defense
Three SFS students completed their degrees this summer
Congratulations to our three graduates this summer! Chao-Feng Hsieh, Dmytro Kuzyk, and Megan Waldrop have earned new degrees in Food Science. To see their thesis or dissertation subjects, visit this link.
Idaho Ag Ed Teachers Learn at SFS
Training will help facilitate dual credit course
Over a dozen ag education high school teachers came to UI in July to learn about food science. Dr. Ryu provided the course that will help them teach in their own classrooms. Learn more about it here.

Creamery Celebrating Grand Re-Opening
Ferdinand's store front expansion complete
Last spring, the WSU Creamery was under construction to enclose the outdoor porch seating area to increase the space for the retail sales location. "Like" the creamery on Facebook here to see photos and get details on the Grand Re-Opening to be held on September 24th.