SFS ANNOUNCEMENTS
SCHOOL OF FOOD SCIENCE

2017-01-26

A weekly e-mail for internal announcements at the UI/WSU School of Food Science. An archive of these announcements is available here.

If you have a Food Science announcement click here and fill out the form to get it submitted.

“Like” Us on our social media platforms! Get more updates and information by finding us at: School of Food Science Facebook, School of Food Science Instagram, Food Science Club, Washington State University Food Safety Extension, Ferdinand's Ice Cream Shoppe (WSU Creamery)
CONGRATULATIONS

Congratulations to Bri Ewing, who has accepted the position of Clinical Faculty in Fermentation Science. Ewing will hold the first Food Science position located at the WSU Mount Vernon Northwest Washington Research & Extension Center (NWREC).

UPCOMING EVENTS AND DEADLINES

Plan to attend Jessica Murray’s MS Defense on February 2, 2017 at 8AM in FSHN 104A. Her research topic is “Influence of Soft Kernel Texture on Durum Wheat (Triticum turgidum subsp. durum) Milling, Flour, and End-Use Quality.

The CAHNRS 3-Minute Thesis competition is fast approaching and is now scheduled for the afternoon of February 27th, 2017. PhD candidates, who are post-preliminary pursuing a degree within CAHNRS; and Masters level thesis students on or past their third semester pursuing a Master’s degree in CAHNRS, are invited to compete. A completed cover form, a single slide, portrait photo, and the completed release form linked here. For more information, click here. Click here for the submission form and record release form.

The College of Agricultural and Life Sciences at The University of Idaho is hosting and Employer Networking Night on February 8th after the UI Career Fair. This event is to bring students and employers together and will be a great chance to find an internship or job, as well as to build a professional network. The event will be held from 7-8:30 pm in the Horizon-Aurora Room of the Idaho Commons, snacks and refreshments will be provided and the event is free to attend.

Due to a scheduling conflict Tate and Lyle will be presenting Tuesday, January 31st at 10:00 am. Their presentation will take place in the Agriculture Science Building in room 62 at the University of Idaho campus.

The National Institute of Food and Agriculture will be hosting a virtual listening session. The focus of this event is to gather stakeholder input to develop the priorities in the Request for Applications in the year 2018. The session will be held Tuesday, January 31st, 2017 from 1:00 to 3:00 pm (Eastern CAHNRS Academic Programs will be hosting an Instructional Technology and Innovation Workshop on January 26th, 2017 from 11am-1pm in CUE 518. The workshop is designed for those wanting to become more involved with online and global campus offering but also for instructors looking to “update” their offerings with some simple changes, providing an overview of services provided by AOI. The workshop will be broadcast to all campuses and R&E Centers, lunch will be provided at the workshop and at all non-Pullman locations.

University of Idaho faculty, the College of Graduate Studies is now accepting award nomination packets for the University Awards for Excellence. The following awards are presented by the College of Graduate Studies and the Graduate Professionals Student Association (GPSA): The Donald Crawford Graduate Faculty Mentoring Award, the Outstanding Masters and Doctoral Student Research and Creative Activity Awards, and the Outstanding Graduate Student Teaching Award. Nominations are due Friday, January 27th, 2017 by 5:00 PM; those received after that deadline will not be accepted. Click here for more information.

CALL FOR AWARD NOMINATIONS:
AACCI Fellows: January 31st, 2017
AACCI Edith A. Christensen Award for Outstanding Contributions in Analytical Methodology: January 31st, 2017
AACCI Excellence in Teaching Award: January 31st, 2017
AACCI Young Scientist Research Award: January 31st, 2017
IFT Class of Fellows: February 1st, 2017
IAFP Fellows Award: February 21st, 2017
IAFP 2017 Student Travel Scholarship Program: February 21st, 2017
IAFP Larry Beuchat Young Researcher Award: February 21st
IAFP Elmer Marth Educator Award: February 21st, 2017
IAFP J. Mac Geopfert Developing Scientists Awards: February 21st, 2017
IAFP Undergraduate Student Award Competition: February 21st, 2017
IAFP Peanut Proud Student Scholarship Award: May 1st, 2017

UI College of Agricultural and Life Sciences Awards:
Gamma Sigma Delta Award of Merit for Outstanding Service to Agriculture in Idaho: February 24th, 2017
Outstanding Staff Award: February 24th, 2017
Outstanding Academic Advisor: February 24th, 2017
Dr. Richard C. Heimsch Outstanding Research: February 24th, 2017
Outstanding Student: February 24th, 2017
Gamma Sigma Delta Outstanding Graduate Student: February 24th, 2017
Club Member of the Year: February 24th, 2017
Club of the Year: February 24th, 2017

Financial aid deadlines for the 2017-18 academic year are changing. The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) will be available Oct. 1, and students will use their 2015 tax information on their applications. The FAFSA is due Nov. 30 for current students, and the WSU general scholarship application deadline is Jan. 31, 2017. The same dates apply for the Washington Application for State Financial Aid (WASFA). Click here to see the updated dates.

Please consider nominations for the NACTA Teaching Awards. These will be due February 1, 2017. Click here for more information.

The WSU Creamery is sponsoring a Basic Plus Cheese Making short course on February 7th through the 9th. The three day course will take place in Mt. Vernon, Washington and is intended for beginner cheese makers, serious about pursuing cheese making at the farmstead or artisan level. For more information and to register, click here to register here.

There will be a Practical Food Safety and HACCP Workshop in Boise, ID from February 17th-16th. This is a comprehensive 3-day workshop that designed for individuals responsible for implementing and managing a HACCP system in a food manufacturing facility. For more information and registration info click here.

CAHNRS is hosting its fifth annual Honors event recognizing outstanding students, staff, faculty, and supporters of the college. The program will include the annual CAHNRS Honors Silent Auction featuring items donated by each department. The department that raises the most money from their donated items will be awarded $1000 in funds to be put towards scholarships within the department. If you would like to contribute items to represent your lab or the department for the silent auction please contact Adam Williams and Jane Lawford, items will need to be gathered by February 22nd to meet the deadline.

The WSU Creamery is offering an Advanced Cheese Making short course in Pullman, Washington this spring. The short course will be held from March 7th through the 9th. For more information and to register, click here.

WSU’s Creamery will be holding a Pasteurizing Workshop in Pullman, Washington this spring. The course will take place from April 19th through the 20th. For more information and to register click here.

This September the Washington Association for Food and Protection is holding their annual meeting in Chelan, WA. The WAFFP is accepting student abstracts for poster presentations now through March 17th at 5 pm. Abstracts must include a title and list of all authors and co-authors, and an indication of student status (M.S, Ph.D), and be less than 2200 characters. Abstracts must be submitted in PDF or Word format to Dr. Stephanie Smith. The top three abstracts will be chosen to give a 15 minute oral presentation during the meeting. Students will be notified about the status of their submission by May 12th. Please direct any further questions to Dr. Smith at (509) 335-0972 or send her an email.

The Pacific Northwest College Bowl 2017 will be held at UC Davis March 25 – 27. Teams can register until January 1st. For more information on the WSU team contact Dr. Joyner, for more general information visit the IFT website.

Save the date for the Intermountain IFT Annual Symposium, June 7th-9th 2017 in Sun Valley, ID. Click here for updates.

For Faculty that are interested, there will be a NACTA meeting on June 28, 2017 at Purdue University. Click here for more information.

The U.S. Borlaug Fellows in Global Food Security Program will hold its sixth annual Summer Institute on Global Food Security Sunday, June 4 – Saturday, June 17, 2017 on the campus of Purdue University in West Lafayette, IN. Applicants must have completed at least one semester of graduate study and be enrolled in a U.S. institution at the time of application. U.S. citizenship is not required. Additional information and applications are available on the program website.

THE STUDENT SECTION

AgEd 407 Global Agricultural & Life Sciences Systems (3 cr, max 9) is available for UI undergrads to sign up for. Click here for more information about the course.
The NSF is putting on a Grant Training Seminar at the University of Washington's Botanic Gardens on February 2nd, 2017 from 8:30 am to 4:30 pm. The workshop is aimed at those who wish to submit winning research proposals to the National Science Foundation. The seminar will cover how to navigate the NSF website, the composition of proposals, understanding the scoring and reviewing process, and more. The seminar has a $395 fee but discounts may be applied for groups or package deals. For a full description of the event and to register follow this link.

The WSDA Specialty Crop Block Grant Program will be accepting concept proposals for 2017 beginning on January 10th. Concept Proposals will be due by February 15th, and applicants will be notified by March 22nd of progress and if they have been selected to further propose a grant. For more information, click here.

The Foundation for Food and Agriculture Research is offering a Open Funding opportunity called ROAR. ROAR's mission is to provide one year grant funding for unanticipated threats to the nation's agricultural system and or food supply issues. To find out more about requirements and for information on ROAR follow this link.

Juniors/Seniors, and Graduate Students, workshops are now available to sign up for through MyWSU for Spring 2017, here are the details: Produce Safety Rule–FS 401 sec 2 (SLN#3649)/501 sec 2 (3670) for Juniors, Seniors and Graduate Students only. This is a 2-day workshop taught on Pullman campus on Saturday, Feb. 4th & 5th, 8 am–5 pm in FSHN 103/155. Produce Safety Rule – FS 401 sec 2 (SLN#3649)/501 sec 2 (3670) for Juniors, Seniors and Graduate Students only. This is a 2-day workshop taught on Pullman campus from 8 am–5 pm in FSHN 103/155 (dates TBA). FSMA- Preventive Controls for Animal Food - WSU FS 401 sec 1 (class# 3650)/501 sec 1 (SLN # 3671). Preferred for Seniors and Graduate Students only (Juniors can take if open seats and approved, but recommend to wait until your senior year.). This is a 2-day workshop taught on Pullman campus on Saturday, Jan. 28th & 29th, 8 am–5 pm in FSHN 103/155. Contact Jodi Anderson for any questions or concerns.

The Professional Manufacturing of Confectioners Association (PMCA) invites to participate in their 2017 Student Outreach Program. This program was developed in an effort to reach out to the next generation of confectionery and snack personnel and demonstrate how “sweet” it is to be part of these exciting industries. To find more information visit their website here.
A two-day and five-day full course on Better Process Control Schools is being offered by WSU. The two-day course for processors of acidified foods in glass containers as well as the four-day schools which covers all process systems and all types of containers and closures as well as private instructions. For more information and Online registration visit their website which can be found by following this link.

The Graduate School is looking for a current graduate student to star in a series of short films for Graduate Student Orientation. Interested students must have availability for filming during the spring semester. Click here to fill out a brief application.

Faculty and staff consider nominating students for the fall 2017 Graduate School's Research Assistantships for Diverse Scholars. The program is intended to increase access and opportunities for U.S. students from unrepresented communities, increasing Graduate Student diversity within WSU. Applications are due by Monday, February 9th at 5:00 pm. For more information about RADS, the Campus Visitation Program, and qualifications visit their website linked here, and for any questions send them an email here.

Asif J. Chaudhry the Vice President for International Programs is seeking assistance that all undergraduate and graduate students traveling abroad who are not earning credit, on an assistantship, or a WSU employee enroll in the online at International Travel Registry. For more information on this matter contact International Programs here.

The GREEN Program invites you to join them abroad this winter and spring break as they venture to Peru and Iceland, the world's leading destinations for sustainable development. Join a team of young professionals and students who have chosen to be part of the change that will lead towards a better world. Two trips to Iceland for their Renewable Energy and Sustainability program will be held over both the winter and spring breaks. And one trip to Peru focusing on Water Resources Management and Sustainable Practices will be held over both the winter break and spring. For more information and to sign up visit their FAQ page linked here.

Experience a cultural exploration of Spanish foods this summer through Clemson's Education Study Abroad program. Eat, learn, and explore from May 14th to June 17th, 2017; and earn 6 academic credits. All majors are welcome with a 2.5 GPA requirement. Contact Dr. Aubrey Coffee with any questions or concerns and follow this link to enroll Online through their Study Abroad website.

The Microbiology lab group is working with Washington Tree Fruit Research Commission to provide information about the effects of overhead cooling water on microbial levels in apple orchards. Volunteer and credit hour positions are available. Contact tonia.green@wsu to be a part of this opportunity. Click here for additional information.

JOBS AND INTERNSHIPS

The George M. Burditt Scholarship, Denise C. Rooney Scholarship, and the Betsy B. Woodward Scholarship, all worth $1,500, are annual scholarships for third year college students. Recipients should demonstrate a desire to serve in a career of research, regulatory work, quality control, or teaching in an area related to some aspect of foods, drugs and or consumer product safety; with at least a 3.0 grade point average during the first two years of undergraduate study. To apply, fill out the application and attach your official college transcript along with letters of recommendation from two faculty members. Applications must be submitted by February 1st to be considered for the current year award. For more information and to apply click here.

Student-Athlete Development is looking for tutors for the spring 2017 semester. Tutors will be required to go through paid training and will be able to choose their tutoring schedule. For more information click here or email leah.schultz@wsu.edu.

The Pullman Chamber of Commerce is looking for an intern for its Cabaret dinner, dance, and auction fundraising event. This is a non-paid position that would involve working from now until April 8th. For more information regarding responsibilities and qualifications click here. For questions, email events@pullmanchamber.com.
The National Lentil Festival is looking for an event coordinator intern to work from May 8th to August 25th 2017. This is an opportunity to gain hands on experience in event planning and management as well as public and media relations. The deadline for application is Wed, Feb. 24th 2017. For more information on the responsibilities and qualifications click here. If interested email your resume to Britnee at events@pullmanchamber.com.

Givebutter is searching for Ambassadors for the coming Spring Semester. For more information visit their website here.

Lisbeth Goddik, Oregon State University's Dairy Processing Extension Specialist, is seeking recommendations for potential graduate students from WA or ID with a strong interest in dairy careers. Student workers with Cougar gold production, undergraduate Darigold interns, or current Darigold employees are encouraged to apply. For more information to apply email Lisbeth Goddik or call at (541)-737-8322.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND COMPETITIONS

IFT - Feeding Tomorrow gives out over $100,000 in academic scholarships to deserving students pursuing degrees in sciences related to food each year. All Feeding Tomorrow scholarship applications are due by February 15th, 2017. For more information about IFT or the scholarships offered, visit their website here.

Reminder that the WSU General Scholarship Application is due January 31, 2017. Alumni Association Scholarships are also due the same day and you must submit the General Scholarship application in addition to the Alumni Association application. For more information, click here.

The Office of Undergraduate Education is accepting applications for Undergraduate Research Award Scholarships. Applications are accepted from students of all majors, any grade level, and all WSU Campuses. Applications are open through February 15th, 2017. For more information and to apply click here.
The CAHNRS Dean's Excellence Scholarship will award an undergraduate and graduate student $1000 each. Nominations for the award are due by February 28, 2017. Click here to find more information and the nomination form. Nominations can be sent to Britta Nitcy.

The Society of Flavor Chemists is now accepting applications for both the 2017 Jogue Incorporated Scholarship Award and the 2017 William F. Jaggard Memorial Scholarship Award. Each of these awards will be given to a full time graduate student enrolled in a program specifically related to the flavor industry. The deadline for submission is January 30th 2017, for more information follow this link.

The 2017 L'Oreal USA for Women in Science fellowship program is accepting applications now through February 3rd, 2017. For more information about the program and to apply visit the posting here.

The 3rd National Adaptation Forum Travel Support Applications are open now through February 10th, 2017. For more information, click here.

The National Milk Producers Federation has created a National Dairy Leadership Scholarship Program and is continuing the award for the 2017 year. Applicants must be enrolled in a Masters or Ph.D program in the United States, and pursuing dairy related research of interest to NMPF member cooperatives and the US dairy industry. In previous years NMPF’s award has been over $6000. Applications can be filled out on an online PDF linked here and must be submitted by April 7th, 2017. To view the full scholarship posting follow this link.

GRANT ALERT DEADLINE: Dannon - February 15th, 2107 for two $25,000 grants available to undergraduate, graduate or postdoctoral scientists who show a strong interest in the research of the gut microbiome's impact on human health and well-being and/or the nutritional and functional benefits of yogurt and probiotics. For more information and how to apply click here.

The International Food Information Council Foundation in Washington, D.C. is now accepting application for the Sylvia Rowe Fellowship award. The recipient will be awarded an eight- to 12-week paid internship at the IFIC and Foundation offices in Washington, D.C. Click here for the application. Complete information and how to apply can be found here. Applications are due Friday,
Feb. 8, 2017.

Several hard-to-award scholarships are available for the 2017-2018 academic year. These include: The De Weerd Memorial Fellowship for Excellence, Lindahl Memorial Scholarship, R. C. McCroskey Scholarship, Rockie Family Scholarship, John and Maggie McDougell Scholarship, and the Everett and Helen Kreizinger Scholarship. WSU Scholarship application deadline is January 31, 2016. For more information and to apply, click here. Additionally, email Britta Nityc with your name and the scholarship(s) you fit and she'll watch for your name in the applications.

Organic Valley’s grant program, Farmers Advocating For Organic (FAFO), is the largest farmer-funded grant program in the country and one of the few focused solely on organic. FAFO awards grants of $5,000-$50,000 for research, education, and advocacy projects focused on protecting and promoting the organic industry or the livelihood of organic farmers. We have two grant cycles in 2017 with application deadlines February 1 and September 1. To apply, click here. If you have any questions contact Vicky Reeves at Vicky.reeves@organicvalley.coop.

Dannon is offering two $25,000 grants to undergraduate, graduate, and or post-doctoral scholars in Gut Microbiome, Yogurt and Probiotics. Grant applications are already being accepted and must be submitted no later than February 15th, 2017. To apply, click here.

EXTENSION EVENTS

WSU Extension will be offering a Food Ingredient Technology short course on February 22nd 2017 in Seattle, WA. This will be an introductory course that provides an overview of major food ingredients that are used in value-added foods. For more information on the course click here. For Online registration click here. Contact Cathy Blood at blood@wsu.edu with questions.

OTHER ANNOUNCEMENTS

If you are currently a participant on a Hatch, Hatch Multi-State, McIntire-Stennis, or Animal Health and Disease research project please review this memo sent to CAHNRS Faculty and make the appropriate response.
The forecast shows a lot of rain in the next few days, meaning lots of melted snow on top of the added water. This means there is the potential for a flood later this week. Craig Cole, the Director of construction Services and Operations advises everyone to access your building(s) to ensure that all windows and closed and secured. As well as to be careful maneuvering in the expected large amount of slush.

The University of Idaho received support from governor Otter for their $45 million Agricultural research project. The governor proposed that the State invest $10 million in funding for the 2017 year, with the rest of the money coming from U of I partners and supporters. The project will focus on environmental solutions, educational opportunities, and economic development. Research is aimed to ensure livestock, crop agriculture, and food processing in Idaho are properly sustained. To read the full article with all of the potential research opportunities that will go along with this new funding click here.

The schedule of Spring Common Reading Events schedule is now available to view. These events will include faculty speakers, films, and interactive activities. Click here to view the event schedule.

Take a look at CAHNRS's 2016 Achievement Profile. Read up on the academic achievements of students during the 2016 calendar year, as well as the research done this past year by students and faculty. See how CAHNRS contributes to the community and everything else they are doing in the extension events section of their 2016 Achievements portfolio. To view the College of Agricultural, Human, and Natural Resource Sciences 2016 summary click here.

Reminder, if you have lost any items around the department we have a lost and found located in the front office. There are currently a set of keys that were a found a month ago. If you happen to find items around the department make sure to turn them in at the front desk.

Just a reminder that WSU is a tobacco and nicotine free campus. Questions can also be directed towards Adam Jussel, the Assistant Dean of Students at 509-335-4532 or at adam.jussel@wsu.edu.

The Scientista Foundation is was founded in 2011 at Harvard University and has since expanded worldwide to over 25 chapters. They are a national organization dedicated to bridging the gaps between established professionals and young women interested in pursuing careers in STEM, and is now for the first time ever WSU is joining in. For questions about future meeting times email Elizabeth Magill or Allegra Sundstrom the co-founders for the Washington State University Scientista Chapter.

Alaska Airlines is now open for travel in 2017 for faculty. This is apart of WSU Imagine Tomorrow competition, the company has committed to one million airline miles per year to WSU faculty, staff, graduate and undergraduate students working in certain areas. Information regarding this opportunity can be found here.

Colleges around the United States have started utilizing Snap-chat as a way of recruiting new students, check out the full story here.

Mat Ngouajio, the National Program Leader for NIFA-OREI has rated the proposal on quinoa as outstanding and recommended for full funding at ~$1,999,950. It was estimated that only 12% of proposals were funded this year due to a usually high volume of submissions.

Home canning is a great way to preserve your summer produce, but if done wrong your canned veggies can spoil sooner than expected. Check out this article from FoodSafety.gov to learn some tips and tricks on how to properly store your summer produce here.

The Kamiak condo cluster is now open for investment from the WSU research community. Researchers who are interested in purchasing compute or storage resources can learn more here. Those who have questions about the process, or would like guidance in selecting hardware, should contact the University’s HPC consultant Dr. Nick Maggio.

WSU Sensory list-serve: The sensory evaluation team at WSU conducts many different food and beverage panels, with varying commitments, from a 15-minute tasting to multiple tasting sessions. Each panel will specify what is being tasted and how long you will be needed. If you are interested in receiving emails about future sensory evaluation panels, click this link to subscribe to the sensory evaluation list-serve.

JOB OPENINGS
BACHELORS DEGREE

Ellenos Real Greek Yogurt is looking for a new Quality Assurance Supervisor for their Seattle, Washington location. Successful applicants will be responsible for safeguarding product safety and quality while meeting both company and regulatory standards, as well as oversight for a continuous quality improvement program. For more information and to apply, click here. Contact Natalie Wiley, Ellenos HR manager, for any questions.

Ellenos Real Greek Yogurt is now hiring a Production Supervisor at their Seattle, Washington location. For more information and to apply click here. Contact Natalie Wiley, Ellenos HR manager, for any questions.

The University of Idaho is in search of a new Food Science Graduate and Professional Student Association Senator. The position just recently opened and is an excellent opportunity for students to represent the Food science program and gain experience working and collaborating with other Colleges and departments within the University. Students that are interested in the GPSA senator position for the food science program should contact Yvonne Nyavor as soon as possible.

Spokane Produce is looking for a Lab Tech/Food Safety Assistant. The position doesn't technically require a degree, but needs someone with food safety and food knowledge background. The position if full time, to apply contact Amy Jones.

The following Food and Agriculture industry companies are constantly hiring for new positions. Click the links and be sure to check regularly as they are constantly changing: IFT main page, Puget Sound IFT, The Oregon State IFT, Puget Sound IFT, Northwest food processors association, and Food Safety job website.

Joe Food Safety has posted many food science jobs around the world! To search for jobs, visit the Joe Food Safety website!

Management Recruiters of Boise are looking to hire a Senior Product...
Development Manager at their Upper Midwest location. This position is a single contributor role looking to offer to someone with three to five years of experience in fresh dairy product development. To apply contact Therese Seefeldt on Linked In.

ADVANCED DEGREES/EXPERIENCE

The University of Missouri-Columbia is looking for new Assistant, Associate, and Full Professors in Food Sustainability. For more information about the position opportunities and to apply click here.

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is looking to hire a tenure track Assistant Professor in Community Nutrition and Dietetics. The position includes teaching both undergraduate and graduate level courses on Dietetics and Nutrition, conduct research and collaborate with other faculty members, and work to better the college of Agriculture. Applications are due no later than January 17th, 2017. Follow this link to visit Cal Poly, Pomona's website to view the online job description and to learn more about the university.

California State Polytechnic University, Pomona is hiring a new tenure track Assistant Professor in Human Nutrition and Food Science. The position will include three major components teaching, courses of both undergraduate and graduate level, research, and service to better the College of Don B. Huntley College of Agriculture. Applications for this job opportunity are due by January 31st, 2017. For a full job description as well as information about the university itself, visit their website posting by clicking here.

Penn States department of Food Science is looking to hire an Assistant Professor for their Food Microbiology program on a tenure track. The position would be 70% teaching and the other 30% conducting research during the 36 week appointment. Successful candidates will be expected to develop and teach courses at both undergraduate and graduate levels in topics related to food microbiology, reducing microbial risks in foods, and prepare students for careers in academia and regulatory agencies. For more information regarding the position and the necessary qualifications click here to view the full job description.

The University of Wisconsin is looking to hire a research associate (postdoctoral) in Food Science, Food or Chemical Engineering, Physics, Material Science or related subject. Experience in rheology, microscopy and crystallization highly desired. For more information and to apply, click here.
The College of Agricultural and Marine Sciences at SQU, the national University of the Sultanate of Oman, is looking for someone to fill a faculty position in Agricultural Engineering/ in Post-harvest Technology Specialization. All instructions and courses are conducted in English and a PhD is a minimum requirement for academic appointments. For more information on the job opportunity click here. There is also a faculty position open at SQU in the Soil Science Program-Soil Microbiology Specialization, for more information relating to this position follow this link.

California State University Northridge has a tenure-track Assistant Professor Position in Food Science open in their Family and Consumer Sciences Department. This position would begin in August of 2017 and requires a PhD in Food Science or a closely related field. The application deadline is January 17th 2017. For more information on the position follow this link.

Cal Poly San Luis Obispo seeks applicants for their Masters of Professional Studies in Dairy Products Technology Program. For more information on this program follow this link.

McGill University’s department of Food Science is in search of a tenure track Assistant Professor in Advanced Food Packaging. Qualified applicants are preferred to have a Ph. D. in Food Science specializing in food packaging/ encapsulation techniques. Applications must be submitted by February 1, 2017. To view the job posting and to apply, click here.

Iowa State University looking to hire an Assistant Professor of Enology and a Director of Midwest Grape and Wine Industry Institute. Graduates and associates in Food Science are being sought to submit applications for a 12 month period beginning July 1st, 2017. Applicants must have a Ph. D. in Food Science, Chemistry, Enology, or closely related fields and have experience in wine production. Applications should be submitted no later than January 27th, 2017; submissions after this point are not guaranteed to be reviewed. Any questions regarding the position of application process may be directed to the email linked here. For more information and to apply click here.

SUBMIT YOUR ANNOUNCEMENTS
Submit your SFS announcements by Wednesdays at 5 PM (for Thursday publication) on the Communication form here.